EYCK FREYMAN

Eyck Freymann is Director of Indo-Pacific and global pandemic coverage at Greenmantle LLC, a New York-based macroeconomic and geopolitical advisory firm. His book One Belt One Road: Chinese Power Meets the World, was published to universal acclaim by Harvard University Press and has been heralded as the “definitive” book on China’s global ambitions.

Drawing on a deep knowledge of the country and language, Eyck writes about how the Chinese Communist Party governs at home, how it thinks about key global trends, and how it is seeking power and influence in every region of the world. Based on these insights, he develops strategies for Western governments and businesses to adapt and compete.

A provocative and engaging speaker known for his passion and range, Eyck brings together insights about history, politics, financial markets, and national security to make sense of complex cases across sectors and geographies. He relishes tough questions and engaging the audience in wide-ranging Q&As.

Eyck’s research and writing have appeared in The New York Times, The Atlantic, and The Economist. He publishes regularly in Foreign Affairs, Foreign Policy, and The China Wire. He is a doctoral candidate at the University of Oxford, where he researches climate change and U.S.–China competition in the Arctic.

Eyck previously worked as a research associate at Harvard, Stanford, and Tsinghua Universities. He holds an MPhil from the University of Cambridge, where he was a Harvard-UK Scholar; an AM from Harvard University, where he won the Joseph Fletcher Memorial Prize for best thesis; and an AB cum laude with highest honors in East Asian History from Harvard College.
