

DEAN GRAZIOSI

Dean was born and raised in Marlboro, New York. He is the son of Paul Graziosi and Gloria Post and is the younger of two children. His childhood was difficult, as his family faced many financial challenges and moved more than 20 times before he was 19 years old. Dean Graziosi did his first business investment well over 25 years ago and has never stopped fine-tuning his craft.

Dean is now a multiple New York Times best-selling author, entrepreneur, and educator. He lives in Paradise Valley, AZ with his wife, Lisa, and his three children. He has started or played a major role in over 14 successful companies that have changed lives all around the world – including the Mastermind.com platform.

Dean’s mission for over 25 years has been to deliver self-education to those seeking transformation, fulfillment, and success outside the traditional education path.

Unlike many so-called self-help gurus, Dean truly desires to deliver value to people, and his passion and commitment are evident at every level. He is not content to simply offer information to make more money for himself; he is seriously committed to helping others improve their lives. To Dean, impact is more important than income. He helps people realize that financial freedom is 100% possible, and it all starts with your mindset!

The methods Dean Graziosi teaches have been tested and proven to work by thousands of students. And he always maintains that anyone can achieve success and impact with the right tools and knowledge as long as they are willing to take uncomfortable action.

Together with Tony Robbins, Dean Graziosi had the largest online product launch in history with a program they co-created called Project Next. Their world-class courses continue to impact over 50,000 people in 150+ countries. These people from all walks of life in more than 4,100 niches are sharing what they know and helping to make self-education the new norm.

In 2021, Dean Graziosi and Tony Robbins also hosted the largest online challenge in history with nearly 1 million registrants for the Own Your Future Challenge. They continue to support this audience through their free Facebook Community. Feel free to join!

Dean’s training is for those who are looking to reach their full potential on a massive scale. It’s for individuals who want to take their lives to the next level and discover how to do it through success, entrepreneurship, and proven strategies working in today’s virtual economy.

His core teaching boils down to his “Millionaire Success Habits”...

Broken down into simple shifts that you can make and daily habits that you can implement to move the needle in your life.

Dean is always going live on video on one platform or another to share his thoughts, breakthroughs, and new success strategies as he discovers them and masters them in real-time. Be sure to follow him on social media so you don't miss out.

Dean Graziosi doesn't just stop with giving back to the world in the form of life-changing education. He also regularly donates to countless charitable causes around the world. In the past he has raised and donated over $1,000,000 to different organizations like the ALS Association and Richard Branson's Virgin Unite. Dean also founded "Operation Free Home" in 2007, a program that provides people in need with a home to live in, free for one year, to help them get back on their feet.

In just the last few years Dean has donated over 8,000,000 meals to Feeding America to help feed families in need, he has built multiple schools in Africa with the great help of Village Impact and has even just recently donated $500,000 to help liberate children from human trafficking and sexual exploitation through Operation underground Railroad.

All in all, Dean has made it a point to always give back at every stage in his life both financially and with life changing education for millions around the world.
